LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.)

EASTERN STATES.

The New Spanish Minister

NEW YORK March 22 —The new Spanish Minister to Washington Admiral Pol de Barnabel landed from the steamer S ... America last night Many besieged him at his hotel and succeeded in getting an interview The Admiral speaks English fluently He said It is a great mistake to represent me as hostile and prejudiced toward this nation I am a sailor with great love for my profession, and have never meddled nor ever wanted to meddle with politics In proof of this I may tell you that I declined the mission to London from the Provincial Government in 1868. I prefer the United States however to any other foreign country and always felt sympathy with the Americans I met with highly flattering receptions when I visited New York in 1863 I remember I spent many pleasant hours with your naval officers and some distinguished people in this city I was also tendered the freedom of the city of New York I had the testimonial framed, and carry it with me always Although mine is a war profession, yet I consider war a thing by all means to be avoided Like your President I have seen enough of war, and am a man of peace. I do not yet know the questions pending between the two Governments, but have no doubt that all differences can be settled in a friendly way. It is my opinion that war is the very last extremity to resort to I would first exhaust all diplomacy, and even when things look very threatening let some time elapse to restore calmness, and then renew negotiations The rumor that I have written a pamphlet on the United States is untrue I have never written a pamphlet I am for strictly keeping law and international obligations—not giving way to passion and prejudice As regards Cuba, I think the insurrection should be completely suppressed and the citizens be then educated up to free institutions I was greatly shocked when I heard of the recent execution of students My appointment does not signify a change of policy toward the United States. There can be but one policy, and that is peace The Admiral concluded by saying that all was arranged for him to succeed Minister Roberts in a few days

The Tribune says it is reported that about forty Tammany refugees have taken up their residence at St Johns Nova Scotia, and that they are living there under assumed names

WASHINGTON CITY

Schurz's Testimony on Sales of Arms

WASHINGTON, March 22 —Senator Schurz to day testified before the Senate Committee on the sale of arms and as to the manner in which he first obtained information about sales for the French Government to Remington About a week before Christmas vacation a copy of a letter was shown him by a Congressman It was the same as appeared in the preamble to Sumner's resolution He did not know of his own knowledge, how the copy was obtained He said he did not feel at liberty to tell the name of the member, but thought the gentleman might have no objection to do so himself It was not Sumner, however In reply to a question whether he had any knowledge of any officers of Government receiving money from sales, witness replied that a good deal of information came to him from a third person in confidence and he thought this information could be procured by the committee on evidence Carpenter also had asked a question from what person Schurz obtained the information The witness said he would waive it for the present Schurz in the course of his examination said he did not obtain his information from persons other than citizens

LONDON March 22 —The Daily Telegraph says Earl Granville s second note on the Alabama question was delivered to Minister Schenck on Wednesday It does not recede from the position taken in his first note but reiterates the repudiation of the claims for indirect damages It proposes that the disputed cases on both sides be lodged with the Geneva Board of Arbitrators on a prescribed date without prejudice to the position taken on direct damages

A London Times special from Berlin March 4, says it is thought in that city that the decision of the Emperor William the arbitrator in the San Juan boundary dispute between English and American Governments will be adverse to England

The San Francisco Bulletin says that dispatches from Mexico, coming though semi rebel sources leave no reasonable doubt that the crisis in Mexico is passed, and the last great attempt at revolution and the overthrow of the constitutional Government is a failure

The Richmond Dispatch is in despair and frankly expresses the opinion that the party that could nominate Seymour and Blair in 1868, when it might have nominated Chase or Pendleton, or Hendricks or Hancock, and Ewing will hardly have the good judgment to nominate an available man in 1872

The Mobile Register thinks that the soundest Democracy is to be found in New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Connecticut, because those States have been tried as by fire in the crucible of adversity, and have come out of defeats, year after year, like pure and refined gold An exchange thinks they will be still further refined this year if the crucible of adversity will do it.

To show how quickly Germany has reorganized its military department since her late war, it is only necessary to state that in the space of ten months the army establishment has been rendered complete in every essential feature, even to the articles of boots, helmets, belts, saddles and knapsacks The artillery has been thoroughly renovated, the cavalry renewed and the whole army is ready for mobilization

The Republican party in California at the last election was pledged by its platform and candidates to carry through a law for compulsory education A good bill was prepared in the Senate preserving completely the right of parents to select the school in which their children shall be educated and making due allowance for the circumstances of poor families who need the help of their children to earn a support But the Senate, which has a Democratic majority, defeated the bill by a strict party vote

The Mayor of Chicago recently received a letter from a person in New York, in which the writer makes the following liberal offer

If you will forthwith place in my hands $100,000 of bonds of your municipality, redeemable in not less than five years, with interest at ten or less per cent , payable semi annually, I will agree to hold them for five years, to pay the semi annual interest thereon in the meantime, and to return them thereupon; I will further agree to authorize the Mayor of your city to draw on me during the close of each year, during the decade, for $50,000, that is to say $500,000 in the aggregate. This is the measure of my sympathy The bonds are of course to be drawn in the usual form, and made transferrable, like securities negotiable. I can give no reference in Chicago, now that my friend has gone to his rest,

The Commissioner of the Land Office has been actively engaged for nearly a year preparing, in answer to a demand made upon him by a resolution of the House of Representatives, a report of the land grants made to the several States and railroad companies, under the system inaugurated in 1862 Here is the result of his labors Mississippi 2,062,240 Florida, 2 360,114, Illinois, 2,595,053, Missouri, 2,985,160, Oregon, 3,500,000, California, 3,520,000, Alabama, 3,729,120, Arkansas, 4 804,871 Michigan 4 931,361, Louisiana 5,578,720, Wisconsin, 5,778 360, Iowa, 6,526 727 Kansas, 9,370 000 Minnesota, 9,783,493—making a total of 67,525 100 acres The Pacific railroads received grants of 148 675 166 acres, so that 216,200 396 acres have been given by Congress for building railroads From the above, however, must be subtracted 8 740,263 acres which have reverted to the Government, leaving a total of 207,460,032 acres,

Restoring Commerce.

Our telegrams have made frequent mention of a recent report by the Secretary of the Navy as to means of restoring commerce. We subjoin a pretty full synopsis of the report

The Secretary of the Navy has sent to the Senate his report as to the means of establishing iron ship-building, economizing expenditures in the Navy, and restoring commerce He favors the erection, by Government aid, of building yards, situated with reference to a ready supply of material, and so arranged as to unite in one establishment all the means to convert this material through all its processes into ships If the duties now imposed on foreign building materials amount to a prohibition of ship-building a bounty equal to these duties should be given, on condition that American materials only should be used, thus to stimulate the production in our own country of all that is required for commercial independence Through the aid of steamships the foreign commerce of Great Britain has now reached, in and for the present fiscal year, the sum of $2,910,000 000 The aggregate of the world s commerce is estimated at $9 237,000 000 Great Britain by the aid of her steamship lines in quick and cheap transportation, has therefore gained about one third of the entire commerce of the world We must resort to the same means not from a single port but from all the outposts of the country, as she did The routes should be selected to suit the present and future requirements of commerce Coaling stations ought to be provided, to guard against great steaming distances When favorably located these will answer for places of interchange and thus depots of commerce will be made for our manufactures and other products, and the articles received in exchange will reach us by a simple and cheaper means Our commerce will thus be divested of many of its burdens and tend to a rapid increase of our national wealth

The Secretary recommends one depot in the Mediterranean, one in the West Indies, and one on the Isthmus of Panama and goes on to say that it is proper to suggest the chief lines of communication which may be gradually established These lines number in all seventeen with touching connections and termini and connecting ports Six lines are named as of imperative necessity these lines are a Mexican Gulf line, Pacific Islands line, Queenstown and Liverpool line Galway and Glasgow line, Southampton, Vlissengen and Antwerp line, and a Lisbon, Cadiz, and Gibraltar line These form a part of the system to which the others are tributary Having adopted the routes most desirable to open our commerce Government should extend aid to establish and maintain them well guarded in security but sufficiently liberal to secure success This, with encouragement to importers on the basis adopted by England would have our merchants and laborers from the tax that now excludes the product of their labor from foreign markets and would be a source of national wealth while it would give full employment to our lines of ocean steamers

Aid may be given without violation of constitutional principles or Government policy In addition to this assistance, contracts should be given to our ships to carry our ocean mails

Should Congress adopt such a system, the six lines named as immediately necessary would require about thirty steamers costing in the aggregate from fifteen to twenty millions of dollars

Proceedings of the Curry County Convention

Resolved, That we, the delegates of the Republican party of Curry county, Oregon in Convention assembled, unite in the following declarations

First—That the history of the Nation during the last twelve years has fully established the propriety and necessity of the perpetuation of the Republican party

Third—That we denounce the odious Swamp Land and Litigant Acts, passed at the last session of the Oregon Legislature as plundering schemes of dishonest politicians, and that we demand the immediate repeal of said acts.

The Rat Hole Mania Again

All of a sudden after a partially lucid interval of a year or more our unfortunate neighbor the Herald is again seized with the Holladay rabies in its worst form Friends of the patient had hoped that its intellect would gradually grow stronger until it would get beyond the danger of a relapse but they have been disappointed It has the rat-hole mania again in its worst form The patient tears its hair and runs about the streets exclaiming that servile Republicans have sold out their party that "the people are to be bound hand and foot and sold as slaves into the keeping of an all-grasping all absorbing money railroad and transportation King We have two columns or more of this raving in one issue and more is promised Poor Tom s a cold

But there is some method in our unfortunate neighbor s madness for it draws on its imagination for a story to make its ravings as coherent and plausible as possible Imitating the style of the dime novels, it assures the world that ' in a room in this city, during the day before the Convention sat was the great railroad and transportation King of Oregon with two certain other individuals, and that these three persons then and there mapped out the work of the Republican Convention, which was afterwards executed to the letter It was a wonder indeed that the imagination of our neighbor in its fine frenzy, did not give a full report of the conversation that there took place just as the writer of romances relates circumstantially the colloquies held in the most secret and private situations among the imaginary people of his imaginary world The Herald's invention halted in the middle of its flight, beyond question that paper could give a full report of the minutest particulars of the conversation just as well as not

It is perfectly conclusive to our neighbor s mind that the Republican party has been "sold out ' to this "greedy monopolist, ' for didn t the Republican Convention fail to put into its platform any reference to that most astounding fact in our politics that the "rates of transportation on wheat and flour to San Francisco have been incr [illegible] five cents per cental ?" Our neighbor asks, 'Does the Republican platform say a word about this ? And it answers, "Not a word !" Nor we may add does it say one word about the equally astounding fact that the price of all kinds of nails has recently been marked up twenty-five cents a keg With equal subserviency to this "transportation monopolist," and to the greedy nail-makers, the Republicans in their recent Convention dodged both these live political [illegible] and now it devolves on the Democracy to give the people relief So the great questions are, shall our shippers be required to pay this five cents a cental for transportation of wheat, and our consumers of nails these extra two bits a keg ? Not if we are freemen ! Not if we know how to maintain our imperilled liberties !

We are told by a first rate authority that "very good orators when they are out of matter will spit ' It is so just now with the organ of the Democracy. It finds its party without principle or policy, hunting new departures or playing possum dodges , and the organ in its embarrassment at lack of matter, resumes its howl of two years that the "Republican party is sold to a monopolist " Evidently that paper and its party intend to pursue this as their line of policy for the campaign There is such a scarcity of principle in the party, that they are forced to [illegible] the stale and exploded stuff of the campaign of two years ago.

Do they imagine that this drivel will win ? No one forgets how the Herald and its party in the last campaign [illegible] that there was an alliance between Holladay and the Republican party which threatened the greatest oppression to the State The measure which was especially denounced by the Herald and its party, was the Humboldt railroad amendment which was proposed by Senator Williams It was declared by the Herald that if the Republicans were not defeated, and this [illegible] were not killed, the State would be delivered over to Holladay, bound hand and foot A campaign that is yet remembered for its acerbity followed All the energy of the Democratic party was directed against the Williams amendment and against the alleged alliance with Mr Holladay, whereby it was [illegible], as the Herald asserts now, that the people were to be bound down to the schemes of one man What followed? A Democratic Legislature was elected, and one of its first acts was to approve this very measure which the party had condemned in the canvass, to sanction by express resolution the very policy which they had denounced as so dangerous to the State, and to exact of their Senator, as a condition of his election, a pledge that he would support this dangerous proposition of the Williams - Holladay - Republican - monopoly combination! Nobody has forgotten these things And now this same party, through its organ renews the old cant and jargon about "monopoly, asserts as it asserted before, that the Republican party is sold to a 'monopolist,' and declares, as it declared before, that ' an oppressed people, when it is too late, will see the unfortunate results of a Republican triumph

This, especially in view of the events of two years ago, is mere idiotic drivel It has lost the charm of novelty and will no longer challenge public attention The same game can't be played twice This thing of denouncing an alleged Holladay Republican combination before an election, and after election expressly endorsing its measures, is rather too thin a device to bear repetition But of course if the organ which made such a fool of itself two years ago wants to repeat that part of the play now it can do so It will be very successful in obtaining popular contempt

In the Herald of yesterday appears a translation of an article on the temperance question from the Oregon Deutsch Zeitung the German paper of this city The Herald thinks the article remarkably good So do we but we would assure the Herald that the writer of it has no sympathy or political sentiment in common with the Democratic party Like most other Germans he is a true Republican, and is no admirer of our neighbor s pet institution, the metropolitan police system Also he and all other Germans believe in education, and do not sanction the robbery of the school fund for a Democratic corporation We are informed that an article will appear in the next number of the Zeitung which will contain political truths that we fear will not be so palatable to our neighbor of the Democratic organ We trust the Herald will not withhold a translation of it

15 We hail the New Departure " of the late Democratic party, taken by the action of their Conventions in seven States, as an affirmation of the principles for which the Republican party has contended for the last ten years and in the "Passive Policy" of that party, already assumed in several of the States, we recognize an acknowledgment of their hopelessness of success in the coming Presidential contest

D W BALLARD Chairman

M BAKER Secretary

From reports in the Iron Age it appears that Ohio is making great progress in manufacturing. The city of Cleveland, on Lake Erie, is especially active in iron production and trade One rolling mill, consuming four hundred and ten tons of coal per day, turns out one hundred and thirty tons of steel, forty tons of bar iron ten tons of steel and iron ware, eight tons of nails, twenty tons of spikes and bolts and sixty or seventy tons of pig iron. A new screw company, with a capital of one million dollars, has just been inaugurated in that city But the greatest triumph of Cleveland enterprise is the building by the King Iron Bridge and Manufacturing Company, of a railroad bridge for a company in Massachusetts It sounds strangely for a Western manufacturing company to compete with Massachusetts manufactures on their own ground

The Herald thinks it has done a smart thing by misspelling words in the Republican platform, breaking sentences in the middle and punctuating the whole in a way to alter the meaning or make it seem ridiculous Very shallow

Subsidies for Commerce

In the House of Representatives on the 13th inst an interesting debate took place on the amendment to increase the subsidy to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company We quote a small part of the debate, as follows

Morgan (Dem) opposed increased subsidy and referred to the statement made to him by Collins when he got his first subsidy of $300,000 that it had cost him more than that to get it He would not charge corrupt practices on members, but they all knew that lobbies were packed with plunderers This scheme was not republican, it was not democratic but would not the country believe it was a scheme to plunder devoid of shame? He denounced it as a conspiracy against the people

Brooks (Dem) of New York replied to Morgan, and reminded him of the parties that had voted for the Collins subsidy He asked him whether he dared to insinuate corrupt motives against Clay and Webster and Crittenden?

Morgan (loudly and excitedly —I dare to do anything that is right I dare to say that this scheme is a scheme of plunder that it taints the atmosphere The gentleman may make the most of my remarks

Brooks (with a display of great feeling)—I will go down to posterity with Clay and Webster and Crittenden for that appropriation to support the flag of our country on the ocean! [Applause] The Democratic party has always been in favor of commerce and trade It looked not only to the agricultural and manufacturing interests of the country, but to its commerce He would tell the gentleman from Ohio (Morgan) that the Democratic party never could be maintained and never ought to be maintained when it arrayed itself against the commerce and trade of the country and when its legislation was such as to uphold the Cross of St George in preference to the flag of the country [Applause on the floor] This was a war mainly between the stars and stripes and the Cross of St George for the trade of six hundred millions of people on the Pacific ocean That was the reason why he had thrown himself so earnestly into the debate He didn t know that he ever felt so deeply interested in any question as he did this The company could not maintain itself against the subsidies of England unless it was supported by Congress

The New York Legislature is considering the subject of minority representation and Mayor Medill of Chicago, has been at Albany offering his advice

SUBJECT— Men Wanted

This notice frequently stares at us from the street corners and walls but the men most needed are not to be had by advertising We want men in every office and station of life Of all the nation needs men who have power to comprehend the demands of the times and to prove themselves equal to the necessity We need men in every reform of a social moral or political nature We need men in the Church in Society in the State and National Legislatures and official positions The great, all prevailing cry of the present day is men Not dandies not idlers not loafers but men of nerve brains endurance honesty and industry

For such there is plenty of room in every community and the market has never yet been crowded The subject is an ample one and MR. STEWART will treat it in a thorough and attractive manner He is a fluent and agreeable speaker possessing rich treasures of thought and language united with a full powerful voice and distinct and pleasing elocution m20dtd

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING MARCH 23 1872

The Office of The Daily and Weekly Oregonian is removed to the S E corner of Stark and Front streets

Court House Affairs —We paid a visit to the Circuit Court office yesterday and were gratified to find that the County Commissioners have replaced the old nest of pigeon holes formerly in use for the storage of Circuit Court papers by an elegant and substantial black walnut case sufficient in capacity to hold the five or six thousand files now on hand as well as all that may be made for some little time to come Some three or four weeks ago we pointed out the necessity for a systematic arrangement of the records and files of the Circuit Court of this county and urged the matter for the consideration of our County Commissioners So far they have begun well by having an elegant receptacle for these records built the next thing needed is a system of filing all cases disposed of in such a manner that easy reference can be had From the experience of every practicing attorney in this city, there is not a more tedious or laborious undertaking in the line of his professional duties than the search for an old case of five or ten years ago in the Circuit Court office at the present time The files have become so mixed up through neglect or carelessness, we know not which, that it is just as probable to find a cause disposed of in 66 in the files of 61, as it is for 61 to appear mysteriously in the files of 67 In a word these papers must be arranged some time or other, as their condition now is a disgrace to our city and county, and would not be tolerated in any other but ours Public policy demands that the records of our higher court should be properly preserved and easy of reference The large number of contested titles to real estate in this city is an evidence of this want, as much depends on the prompt forthcoming of papers relating to the land grants of twenty or twenty five years ago A system of filing similar to that in the offices of the New York courts can be made here at a trifling cost to the county and as this must be done some time or other, the present is the proper time as procrastination will only increase the cost and difficulty There are over five thousand cases to be examined, arranged, completed, filed and registered alphabetically and numerically in a book made for the purpose, and it is estimated that it will require two competent clerks for three or four months for this purpose The public offices of this county should be the model of other counties of this State to copy and in no other particular should more care and attention be bestowed than in the arrangement and filing of judicial records

Don't Believe It —The doubting city editor of the Bulletin does not believe that a correspondent in Missouri desires to know if there are any white men living on Puget Sound, and says the correspondent is an unhealthy vision of the brain For the delectation of our friend, we copy the following letter from our agent at Pendleton, Oregon, Mr Lot Livermore a reliable, truthful man—dated March 16, 1872, as follows "Inquiry has come from Missouri, wishing to know if there are any white men living in the Puget Sound country The question I think is best answered by sending the Weekly Oregonian for one year to , and charge the amount ($3) to me." We hope that the letter will act as an opiate upon our friend, and cause his nerves to be quiet.

Chinese Woman Recovered —Our readers will remember that about one year ago a Chinese woman was found in an out-house, where she had been placed by her humane friends to starve to death—in consequence, as they said, of her having an incurable sickness Police officers [illegible] discovered her, in the terrible condition in which she was, and they took steps for her to be placed in the County Hospital, where she has [illegible] since. The result of her rescue has been that she is now completely cured, with but a [illegible] scar, and is very thankful to the officers who saved her life

Real Estate —We are informed that real estate matters are looking up. Sales are not frequent for speculation, but many tracts of land and town lots are being purchased by parties for "[illegible] use." This is an indication of a healthy [illegible] of our real estate market By the way, we have a statement to make which we are assured is not at all sensational, but a solid fact and that is, that within forty days a half million [illegible] will arrive here from San Francisco to be invested in real estate in Portland and vicinity.

[illegible] —The Lecture by C H Walker, the [illegible] boy, at Nonpareil Hall last evening, was [illegible] attended, considering that Mrs Duniway's and Mr. Condon's lectures were on the same evening. Mr. Walker has newly started in the lecture field. His remarks were logical and to the point. We have no fear in stating, that with more experience, Mr Walker will make a forcible and convincing speaker on his favorite topic—[illegible].

Burial.—Mr A L Lane, who for a short time lived in East Portland, was buried yesterday with Masonic honors, A B Richardson conducting the ceremonies, assisted by U E Hicks A [illegible] of Masons from this city promptly responded to a call from their brothers in East Portland. The Rev Sellwood preached the funeral sermon at the Episcopal Church The deceased leaves a wife

Indian Agent —Mr. P B Sinnott informs our [illegible] that he expects to receive his commission from Washington as Indian Agent in about three weeks He has filed his bond in the sum of [illegible], approved by Judge Deady, and took the oath of office before him T B Odeneal, as Superintendent of Indian Affairs, also filed his bond, approved by Judge Deady, about the same time

E. O. D.—To outsiders those three letters may seem cabalistic, but they simply mean "every other day" Well, we are sorry the reporter of the Bulletin is not well enough posted to know that the item about Carrie and the cattle is strictly true. On Thursday the Carrie did bring a lot of cattle down from Oregon City and they were sent east by the Dalles boat yesterday morning

Moving Buildings —The buildings on Front street once occupied by the Bank of British Columbia, and latterly as the office of the North Pacific Transportation Company are about being [illegible] to make room for one or more large fine brick buildings, to be erected—as we are informed by Captain R R Thompson So the work of improvement goes bravely on

Arrival of the Mila Bond —The Mila Bond, under command of Captain Corno, twelve days from Tillamook arrived yesterday the Rescue having towed her up from the mouth of the Willamette The Bond is now lying at Everding & Farrell's wharf and will be discharged probably to-day

Revenue Vessel —The time for receiving bids for the construction of a revenue vessel for Puget Sound is extended to Wednesday, May 1st See advertisement. Persons who wish to examine the plans can be accommodated by calling at the Custom House in this city

Repaired —The steamer of Engine Co No [illegible] is now repaired and ready for use when its services are required The steamer was tested Thursday evening under the superintendency of Chief Engineer Williams and he pronounces it in tip top order

River Improvement —Work on the Swan Island Bar, under direction of Major Robert of the United States Engineers will be resumed early in the coming week The dredger will be put in operation and continue probably for a month

Freight by Railroad —The receipts by last evening's train on the East Side were 3 220 lbs paper, 760 lbs. linseed oil, 206 lbs poultry, 13 610 lbs. dried fruit 247 boxes apples, 5 cars each of flour and wheat 1 of bran and 1 horse

Lumber. The Commodore Perry under command of Captain Taylor arrived yesterday from below, having in tow a scow load of lumber—100 000 feet—consigned to the St Helens Mill Company

Funeral —The funeral of Mrs James Lyons was largely attended A delegation from the Emmet Guard and the Father Matthew Society were in the procession

Weekly Oregonian —The Weekly Oregonian of this week ready for mailing to friends in the East, can be had at the counter Oregonian office

Departed —The British bark Coldstream in tow of the Ocean took her departure for Astoria yesterday, en route to Liverpool

REPORT OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF MULTNOMAH COUNTY FOR 1871-72.

Thirty one districts have been laid off in this county, twenty five of which have been organized Twenty three have reported schools the last year, and received their orders for school money. Two failed to report, and thus forfeited their right to funds Four districts of other counties reported pupils in this county, and drew their pro rata of funds

The following summary of the reports will give an outline of the condition of the districts

Whole amount paid for school purposes	40 632 00
Value of public school buildings	46 800 00
Value—approximate—of school lots	53 700 00
Value of public school property	100 000 00

District No 1 Portland, reports 2 462 children of school age—a gain of 82 of whom 1 126 are enrolled in the public schools, and 815 in private and corporate schools, leaving 511 who do not attend any school,

Great credit is due this city for the liberal provisions made by voluntary taxation to support and improve the public schools the past year

District No 2, Brooklyn reports a gain of 20 pupils No 3, "Dufur," reports a gain of 6, No 4, "Powell's Valley" reports a loss of 3 No 5, "Mt Tabor" reports a gain of 12 A majority of the districts report about the same number as last year No 21 East Portland reports a gain of 49 and No 31 Holladay's Addition," reports a gain of 51

In several districts confusion still exists from the great variety of school books This evil can be corrected by a State Board of Education, authorized to prescribe text books In thirteen districts of the country, schools were continued two terms each The schools of East Portland continued three terms each Those of Portland had four terms each, equal to eighty terms for the twenty rooms or teachers

The public schools of the city have for the most part steadily improved in character in order, in the methods of teaching and in the habits of pupils about the school buildings Improvements of this kind have appeared in some other schools, while some have made little or no advance This is due in part, perhaps, to a lack of interest in the patrons, in employing and sustaining teachers, and in providing proper school rooms and furniture It is hard for little children to sit all day upon high benches, with their feet dangling, unable to touch the floor. It is hard for teachers to illustrate subjects without blackboards or wall cards outline Geographical charts or maps It is hard also to instruct pupils who come irregularly Directors can do much to aid teachers and improve the scholar by their monthly visits and care which the law requires

Our schools have less public money per pupil this year than last, owing to the fact that $2 227 41 of the two mill tax had not been collected on the first Monday of March the legal day of distribution to the several districts Orders have been issued for $12,012 39 coin and $769 82 currency, a sum in coin of $1,268 47 less than the amount distributed in 1871 These sums afford $3 68 coin per pupil for the current year, against $4 28 coin per pupil drawn in 1871

It was expected that the interest of the irreducible fund would relieve our school treasury, but the portion assigned to this county has not yet been received, and the sum is declared to be small, about $1,157 36 coin, or 51 cents per pupil

The law needs to be changed so that taxes collected and funds accumulating after the annual distribution in March may be distributed to the district on the first Monday in September, instead of lying in the treasury ten or eleven months

It will be seen from this report that local taxes will be needed to keep the schools up to their present condition. It is hoped that funds will be raised and efforts made to improve them in quality and to extend their [illegible]

We are inviting immigration, and one of the most effective motives with the intelligent, industrious and skilled classes, whom we most desire to secure as settlers, is the prospect of good schools for their children The policy of improving our schools and school system is the policy that will enrich ourselves The best families go where their children can have the best advantages

The American system of free, graded English schools, including Primary Grammar, and High School departments, as conducted in many of our eastern and western cities and towns like Boston, Worcester, Chicago, Milwaukie, Winona, Sterling, Moline, Rock Island, Omaha, Sacramento, San Francisco Portland and in hundreds of other places, forms not only one of the brightest ornaments of American society, but one of the most conspicuous and attractive objects of intelligent emigrants from different States and other lands

A higher consideration than this is the confessed power of such schools to enrich and discipline the mind, and to some degree, mold the character of our youth It is surely the most effective means to render our heterogeneous population homogeneous in language, in proper freedom and habits of thought, and thus in fitness for their privileges and duties as citizens of the Republic While we vote taxes and subscribe money freely in material investments, let us not forget that our richest possessions derive and retain their value more from the mental and moral character of the people than from their own abundance Gold and silver houses and lands manufactures and merchandise, are almost worthless in an ignorant debased and irresponsible community

The lesson of history is that the better we make our schools, and the more completely they reach and train the masses, the safer and happier shall we be, and the more assured will be our future prosperity

A REMARKABLE CURE OF PALSY

WM. BURDEN A STOCK RAISER OF WILLOW CREEK WASCO COUNTY, OREGON LOST THE USE OF HIS LEFT ARM BY PALSY WAS CURED IN TEN MINUTES BY DR. ABORN COR NER THIRD AND MORRISON STREETS PORTLAND

To the Afflicted—I wish to state that I lost the use of my left arm from my shoulder to the end of my fingers by a stroke of palsy I could not raise my hand or arm from my side and was fearful that there was no cure for me My friends at the Dalles advised me to visit Portland and place myself under the care of Dr Aborn I arrived in Portland last evening by the Dalles boat, and immediately called at Dr Aborn s office and made my case known The Doctor commenced treatment at once and in ten minutes time to my great surprise and joy he performed a complete cure, so that I now have the use of my arm hand and fingers, and can raise my arm up over my head with as much ease as I can raise my right arm This certainly is a very remarkable cure, and in my estimation speaks volumes to the skill of Dr Aborn I am stopping at the American Exchange Hotel, and will leave on the boat to morrow for home I am a stock raiser and reside at Willow creek, Wasco county, Oregon, eighty miles south of the Dalles

Church and State in Switzerland.

[From the N. Y. Independent.]

The Swiss are discussing amendments to their Constitution, and they find some trouble in readjusting the relations of Church and State. Heretofore these relations have, with two exceptions, been left wholly to the several cantons. In a confederation where some cantons are almost wholly Protestant, others almost wholly Catholic, and others about evenly divided between the two forms of faith, it was plainly impossible for the national government to make any definite rules for the control of religious matters. The only references in the Federal Constitution to religious questions were a provision that no secular disability should be imposed on either Protestants or Catholics in any of the cantons, a prohibition of the order of Jesuits throughout the Confederation, and a clause making the clergy of both churches ineligible to the National Council. It was proposed to strike out this last clause; but the proposition was violently opposed by the ultra Protestants, and at last rejected. The question of religion in schools was also discussed with much warmth. Heretofore education has been left to the care of the cantons; but some provision has now been made for the establishment by the Confederation of schools of the higher class, and a large minority of the Council insisted that no person belonging to any religious order should be employed as a teacher. This prohibition was not enacted; but the Council added to the educational bill a provision which makes the article against the Jesuits yet more stringent, forbidding the interference in educational matters of any class of men who could be suspected of Jesuitry. The significant feature of the discussions was the greatly increased hostility of the Protestants to the Catholics. This hostility appears in some instances to be narrow and unreasoning; yet it is the legitimate outgrowth of the Vatican Council and of the series of acts by which the Ultramontane party has arrayed itself against the civilization of the nineteenth century. We could wish that out Protestant friends in the Swiss Council were a little more moderate and fair; but when we remember with whom they are dealing we can hardly blame their severity.

A Modest Maryland Bridegroom.

Real diffidence and innate modesty are so rarely seen in American society of the present day, that cases of the "simon pure" article deserve especial mention by the newspaper press. Such modesty was displayed at a wedding recently celebrated in this county. A young man had wooed and won the affections of a charming young lady, and the time was fixed upon when she was to make him the "happiest of men." When that day arrived the store [illegible] and [illegible] were provided, the clergyman was in attendance, and friends and neighbors were [illegible] to join their voices in the joyous epithalamium, when lo! the bridegroom came not. After anxiously waiting until all hope of his coming was past, a party was formed to go in search of the missing groom, and the bride swooned away. The bridegroom, who all this time had been vainly endeavoring to "screw his courage to the sticking place," had hidden himself, in order to see what turn events might take.

When he beheld the party of discovery coming toward him, thin[illegible] that discretion was the better part of valor, he took to his [illegible] and fled incontinently. A halt was, however, soon effected by means of a shotgun, and the young man's excessive diffidence so far overcome that he allowed himself to be led back to the object of his affections. Here another difficulty arose; his bride, whose [illegible] had been g[illegible]ly shocked by the outrageous treatment she had received from the groom, came to the conclusion, somewhat late, that matrimony was but a delusion and a snare, and that nothing could induce her to marry this man. No persuasion, no ent[illegible] of her friends could prevail on her, till at last the clergyman, who, by the way, is somewhat of a wag, told the bride that he would submit to no such conduct; that he had been sent for to marry the couple, and unless she consented to have the ceremony performed at once that he would call on Sheriff Smith and have her arrested for breach of promise. The fair one could not resist such an argument and the groom being ready they were this time forthwith immolated on the altar of Hymen.—Calvert Journal.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

FRIDAY EVENING, March 22, 1872

Gold in New York, 110.

Portland Legal Tender quotations, [illegible] buying and 91½c selling.

The steamship Idaho will leave for San Francisco to-morrow. She will take out a very large cargo.

The steamship Ajax is to leave San Francisco Tuesday bound up.

The bark Coldstream left for Astoria this morning under tow of the Okanagon. She will sail for Liverpool Monday. Her cargo consists of 13,107 sks Wheat—10,[illegible] centals—value $32,316.

The bark Almatia is taking in cargo very rapidly and will be ready for sea by the middle of next week.

The bark Coldstream, from Liverpool with cargo of assorted merchandise, arrived at her wharf in the afternoon of February 29th, commenced discharging March 23, and left this morning. This is quick dispatch.

The schooner Hila Bond was towed up to-day by the Rescue.

Owing to the damages sustained by the bark Sparkling Dew, in a stress of weather, while en route from Newport, Wales, her cargo will not be discharged until after a general average is had. After her cargo is out a survey will be made and extent of injury to vessel obtained.

Wheat is quoted at Liverpool is quoted at 11s 6d.

The following expose how the San Francisco Wheat market is manipulated, we clip from the Commercial Department of a San Francisco paper, and will, no doubt, be read with interest by all engaged in Agricultural pursuits in this State, as well as by dealers:

A large proportion of the late cargoes of Wheat bought for export has been secured in the interior. Until within the past two or three years the purchases of round lots of Wheat have been effected principally through one broker, who, from his peculiar mode of doing business and having comparatively large capital with which to operate, has managed to secure the bulk of the trade within his own grasp. At the time our agricultural interests were in their infancy, and when many of those who are now among our most wealthy and independent farmers were compelled to ask heavy advances on their growing crops, this state of matters was easy of solution when there was only one or two individuals engaged in the business of buying cargo lots, and who were in a position to handle sufficient money in order to make the required advance to farmers. Under the above circumstances it is easy to understand how one or two operators could manipulate a limited market to their own advantage. For the last four or five years we have had a Produce Exchange established in San Francisco. It was naturally thought that with the assistance of this medium the farmers and Grain producers of the State would support the commission merchants and dealers in their endeavors to release them from their thraldom by s[illegible] their Wheat and other produce to market, where it would be offered publicly for sale, thus insuring to the farmers the highest rates obtainable. The Produce Exchange has only been partially [illegible]ful in the object sought to be attained. This failure is to be attributed to a great extent to the farmers themselves, who too generally persist in selling their crops in the country, without properly testing the market here. For the information of many of our subscribers in the interior who are connected with grain interests, we will state that it has long been and still is the custom of the one or two principal operators here to "bear" the city or local market by refusing to buy here, unless at a very low figure. This action, of course, to a certain extent, stops tr[illegible] tions, and the daily city papers are compelled to [illegible] "No sales," "Shippers out in the market," etc. Such reports find their way to all parts of the State, and the moment said operators are satisfied with the state of the local market, they commence, through their agents, to purchase in the country, offering a slight advance on the prices quoted in San Francisco. This is exactly the result ardently wished for by the manipulators referred to. There are plenty of our wealthy exporting houses who would be glad to see the grain come here for sale, and who would, in many instances, prefer doing their business direct or through a buyer, if the farmer will only offer them facilities for doing so; but so long as producers follow the practice of effecting their most important sales in the country, so long will the business, to a great extent, be controlled by one or two brokers, who have long endeavored to rule the market and dictate terms to the farmer. It is true that many of our farmers have acquired wealth under the system of doing busin[illegible] to which we have referred; but having had long experience in the market, and having every facility for forming an opinion on the subject, we do not hesitate to earnestly call attention to this matter, in hopes that the bulk of the next crop will be offered for sale in San Francisco, where each farmer can place his crop in competition with his neighbor's, and secure the best terms obtainable.

Portland is Oregon's market. All grain should be shipped here for selling, or else samples of crops raised be exposed for sale here before being disposed of in the interior.

We have no Produce Exchange in Portland, but there are commission merchants who will sell for farmers—not grocery or similar houses, but grain commission houses. They are the parties through whom to act. Grain merchants are better informed—it is their exclusive business. The prosperity of our State depends upon our agricultural interests, and everything should be adopted by our farmers so as to take advantage of everything offering, and interior [illegible] should see to it that every advantage possible to be secured by them for farmers should be secured; for the more prosperous our farmers are, the more is to be gained by merchants, not only in agricultural districts, but also in Portland. Land enhances in value; more men are employed; more of the luxuries and necessaries of life are consumed—for all men live according to their income.

Produce Market.

WHEAT—There is more stir in the market than has been witnessed for a long time. This is in the face of a declining or a low market ruling. We cannot hear of any tr[illegible]ctions, although shippers are sounding the market. The Idaho takes down 300 tons for one party, and the following steamer will also take out about 300 tons for the same party. These two shipments, we are informed, are intended to be re-shipped in San Francisco for Cork. We cannot give any correct quotations of prices, as nothing is doing outside of a better feeling in the market.

FLOUR—Advices from San Francisco give a better demand. If the surplus can be worked off, then both Wheat and Flour will improve in this market and San Francisco. The stock on hand is heavy. The Almatia will take on for San Francisco about 4,000 bbls. We quote extra of standard brands at $6 per bbl; of choice country, $5 50@5 75 per bbl, outside and superfine $5@5 25 per bbl.

POTATOES—Advices by mail from San Francisco give the deliveries in that market of the crop of 1871, at 85,000 sks more than was delivered of the crop of 1870. Prices on the 14th of March, 1871, were quotable at $1 45@1 75 per 100 lbs, and the same date this year, 45 cts. and 90 cts., with prices hardening. Receipts in our market are beginning to improve. Prices remain unchanged since last quotations.

DRIED APPLES—Mail advices from the East continue to give an improvement in the prices, but owing to the heavy stocks in San Francisco, prices will not advance there before the active Spring trade, which is generally next month.
